Workshop Background

- Five FACT member institutions produced a flow chart intended to represent their process from conception to submission of a proposal
- Of particular interest to FACT is the interaction and collaboration of Faculty and Administrators
- We are also considering many complicating factors: size of institution, different types and roles of administrators and faculty, different types of proposals...

Workshop Goals

- Find and analyze similarities and differences among the five flowcharts
- Analyze what these flowcharts tell FDP about how faculty and administrators work together and what is working and not working in this relationship?
- Consider larger lessons, if any, for the national proposal submission system

Workshop Activities

- Break into groups and review the five flow charts you will be given, first individually and then as a group. Identify similarities and differences.
- Discuss these similarities and differences. What do you think they stem from? What do they tell us about the institutions? About the relationship between faculty and administrators?
- Consider the flow charts in light of the overall national research system. How much of these processes is driven by institutional issues versus issues stemming from the national research system?

Workshop Materials

- You will get a packet of five flow charts that look something like this...

Grant submission process (for most grants)- recently used for NIH R01 and U54 Grants

RPAS=Request for Proposal Submission

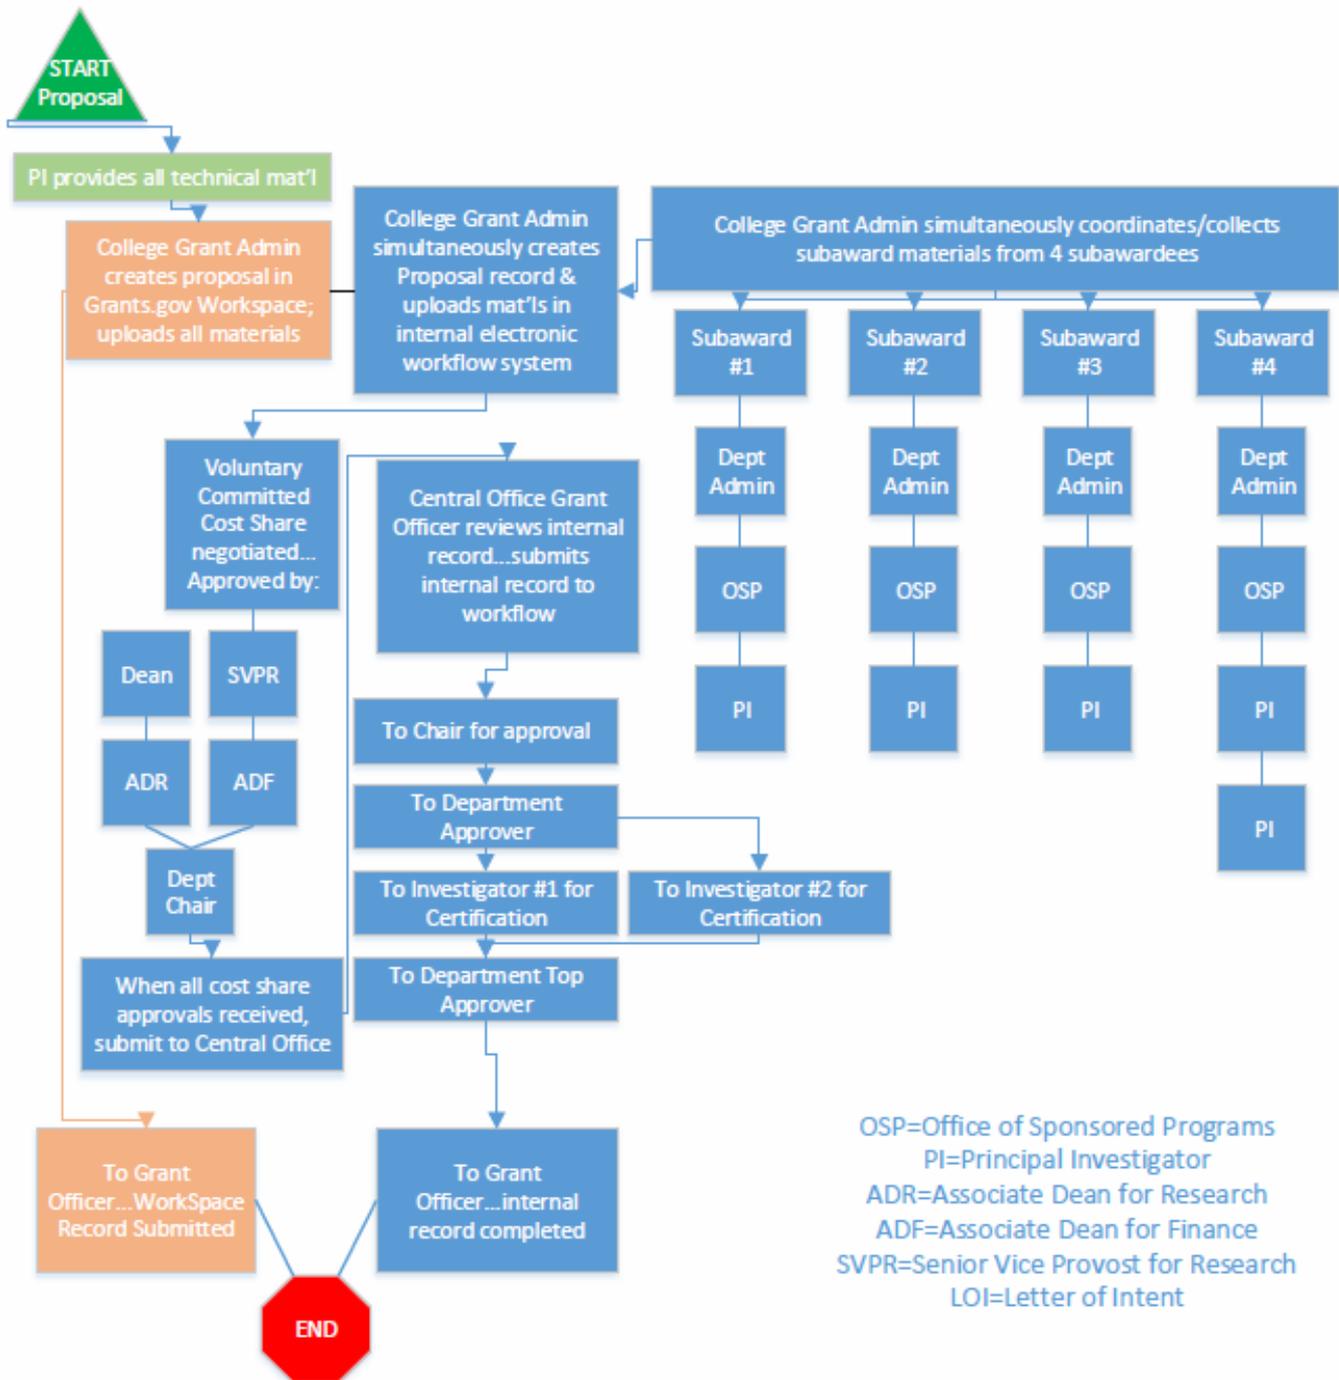

Department of Energy

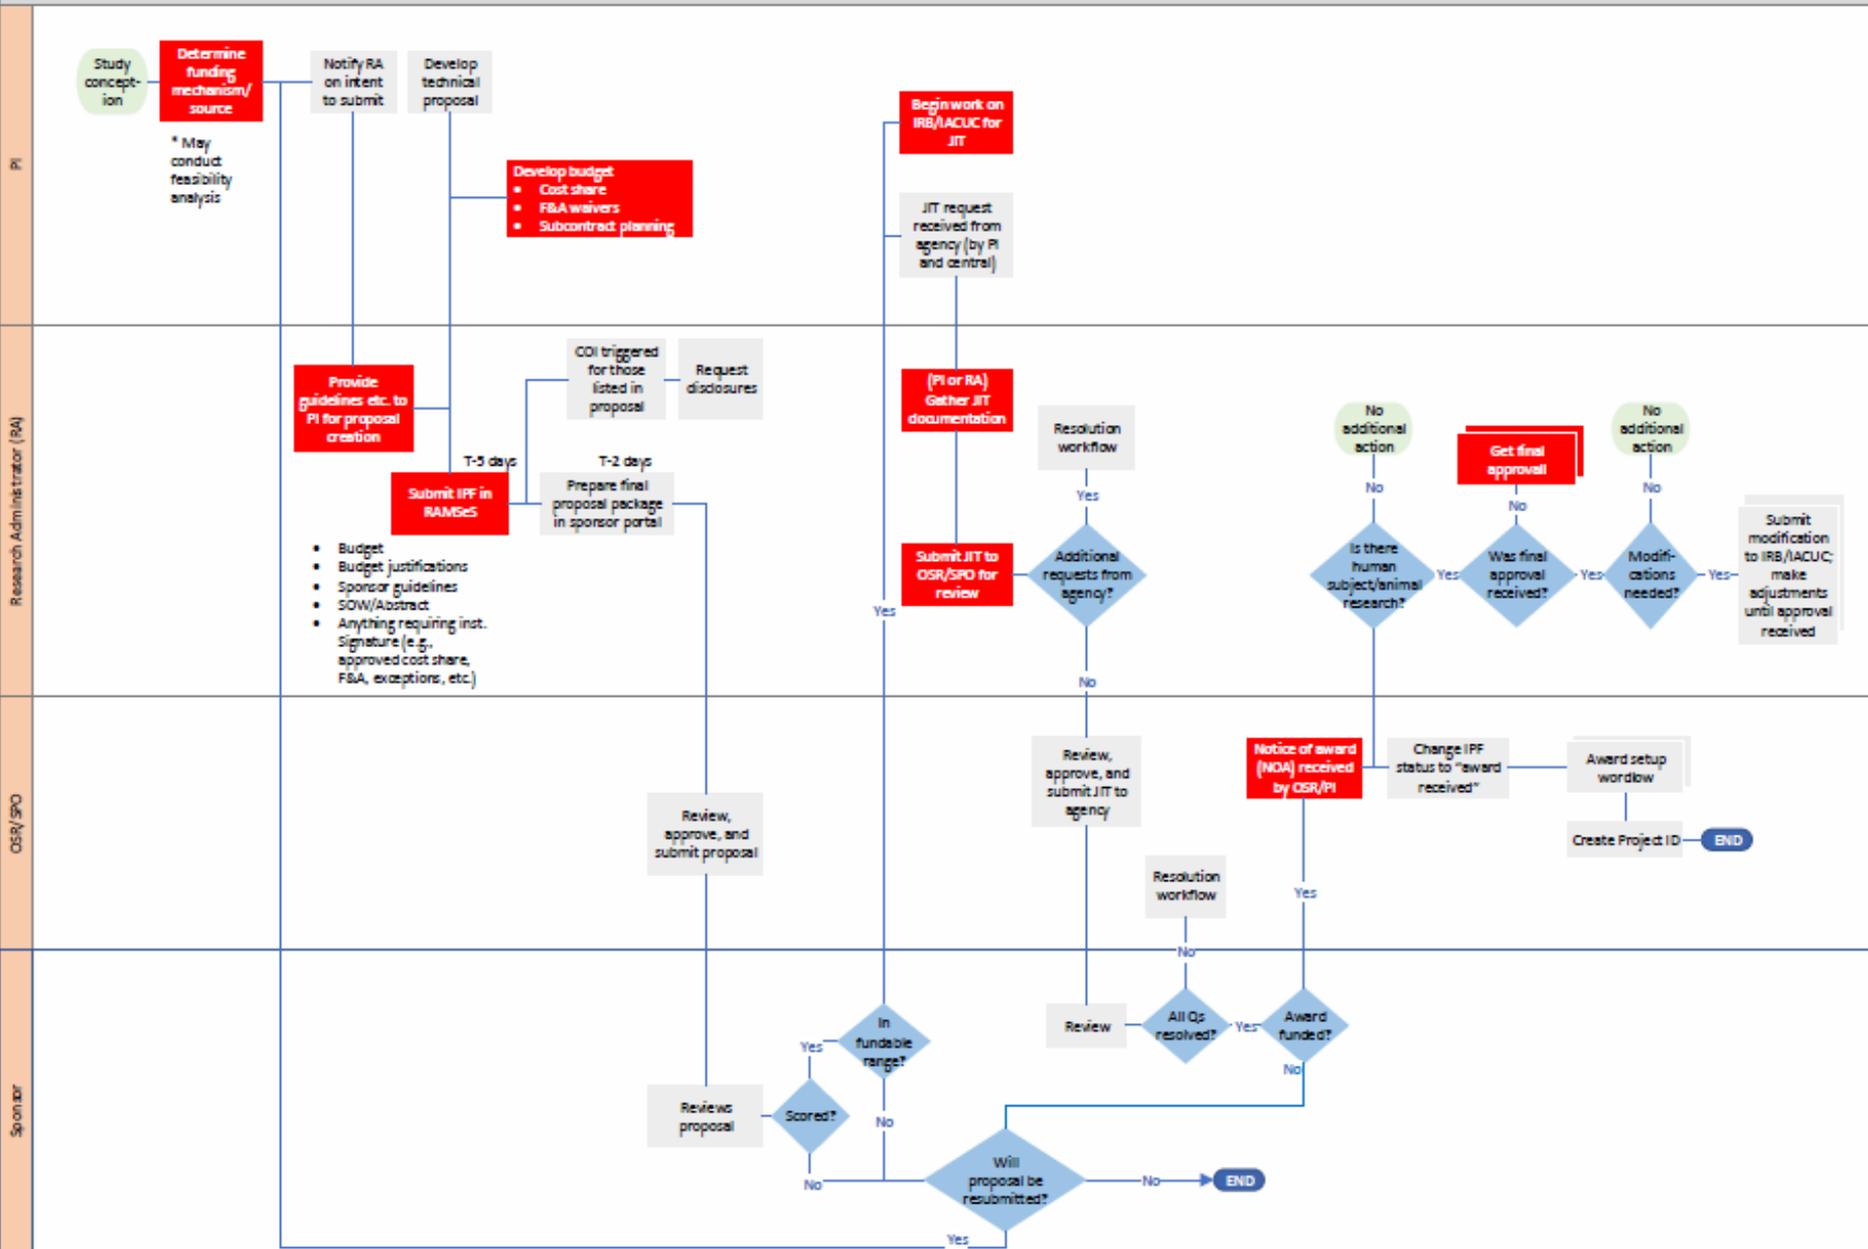

- One College proposal submission
- College has central grant admin service model

- If multiple colleges, ADR and ADF of each college would approve Cost Share
- If junior Grant Officer, additional Director Review
- For proposals without an LOI requirement, If Limited Submission, would start at Research Development Office for selection process

OSP=Office of Sponsored Programs
 PI=Principal Investigator
 ADR=Associate Dean for Research
 ADF=Associate Dean for Finance
 SVPR=Senior Vice Provost for Research
 LOI=Letter of Intent

Federal sponsors – high-level process map
 Expected timeline to complete major steps to be added

Final Discussion

- We will:
  - Hear a report out from each group
  - Consider the similarities and differences in what each group found.
  - Consider what we have learned in the context of (a) institutional research goals and (g) the goals of the national system for awarding funded research
  - Consider what we have learned about the nature and role of faculty/administrator collaboration
